Teacher is understanding
The homework and PowerPoints helped understand macro better
The homeworks were helpful in understanding the material on a deeper level. The powerpoints and textbook broke down the material well and made it easy to understand.
I thought the projects were fun and a different way to explore macroeconomics.
Engaging Professor.
The in class discussions were very beneficial.

Are there any aspects of this course you would change in future offerings (e.g. particular readings, assignments, projects, topics studied) and how?

organization couldve been better
No
The only thing I would change would be the presentations.
I wouldn't change anything.
None.
no.

What aspects of the instructor's teaching style did you find very positive and why?

Comments
he gave real life examples
Everything, he was very helpful and easy to reach if needed.
I thought Valentinas was a great professor who connected with his students in a way that made students want to engage in the class. He made the material interesting and provided a good foundation of macroeconomics while providing further insight on more complex concepts in economics when students were interested.
He is understanding with his students and doesn't overwhelm you with work.
He really seemed to enjoy teaching the class and economics.
I like how a lot of the grade is up to the student, the only required assignments are weekly chapter homework and tests.

What specific advice would you give to help your instructor improve your learning experience in this course, and why?

i appreciate how understanding he is, it can be hard balancing 6 courses, and he was understanding of that.
NA
I thought the macroeconomics game was a great idea. It helped me understand how the topics were learned actually worked in practicality rather than just theory.
Probably to do something else besides just lectures. Maybe add in in class activities.
None.
I don't have any advice.
